KEY CHARACTERISTICS

1. Concentrated Small/Mid Cap Exposure with a Long Term Value Focus

NAC seeks to provide investors with exposure to high quality, undervalued small-mid cap companies (market capitalisation generally >$400 million to $1 billion+) with an industrial bias in a concentrated structure.

2. Sustainable Growing Fully Franked Dividends

NAC's dividend has grown every year since inception with dividends usually paid on a six-monthly basis. To date all dividends have been fully franked.

3. Focus on Quality of Companies Not Quantity

Our primary focus is on developing a deep understanding and appreciation of the companies in our portfolio. We believe the best way to achieve this is to focus on a select number (typically 0-20) of high quality investment ideas in order to capitalise on our 'long term knowledge & liquidity advantage'. NAC has the ability to selectively short sell companies that the investment team believe are overvalued and of poor quality.

4. Portfolio Flexibility with a Benchmark Unaware Approach

This means we are not forced holders of stocks with large benchmark/index weightings that we are not convinced are attractive investment propositions. NAC can also hold up to 100% cash, it has been proven that holding cash offers the 'best hedge' during times of crisis.

5. Significant Alignment of Interests with Shareholders

NAOS directors and employees (including related parties) own over 8 million NAC shares, providing shareholders with a significant alignment of interests.

6. Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) NAOS adopts an ESG screen across its investments.

Investment Portfolio Performance & Market Insight

The NAC Investment Portfolio returned -0.25% for the month of June compared to the absolute benchmark which increased by +0.36%. This brings the inception return for 3 years and seven months to +67.21% and with it the FY18 return to +10.25%. Clearly, although relative to the wider market, NAC underperformed through this financial year, we have maintained our record of no negative financial year returns, and when the market (XAOAI) has had a negative monthly return, the NAC Investment Portfolio has never been down more than the market. This highlights our ability to generate sustainable long term returns but not at the expense of an increased chance of permanent capital loss. With a concentrated portfolio of between 10-15 positions our performance is very much dictated by the movements of our core holdings. When we overlay our long-term investment process, which results in many of our core positions being held for 3+ years this can result in periods of flat or even negative performance. However, over the long term we believe that it is through this investment philosophy that our substantial understanding of our investments, together with high conviction holdings in the portfolio will result in sound long term performance that should bear little resemblance to that of the wider market.

There was one key event within the NAC Portfolio and that came from MNF Group (ASX: MNF). MNF announced the acquisition of a Singapore-based business and also provided a guidance update for FY18, sending the share price up +5.85% over the course of the month. Although small in financial terms, we believe the acquisition of the Singaporean based Superinternet is very significant from a strategic point of view as this gives MNF the infrastructure capability to offer their wide range of software capability to a much larger client base in Singapore, and over time in more regions within South East Asia. This strategy builds on what MNF have achieved in Australia and a number of other countries post the acquisition of TNZI in 2015. MNF also reiterated their guidance given at the half year result, clarifying that the core business continues to grow organically and the start-up losses in Pennytel are within guidance, whereas the market may have expected worse. We believe the FY18 result in August will allow the market to once again focus on the strong organic growth opportunities of the business, that are supported by a Tier-1 client list that is now expanding overseas. MNF also has the ability to continue to internally fund further bolt on acquisitions due to their high cash flow generation and net cash balance sheet, which may increase the earnings growth in FY19 and FY20 above the current expectations of the market.

Description of Statistical Terms/Glossary

Average Market Capitalisation of the Portfolio's Equity Holdings – The sum of, the percentage of each individual position relative to the total value of all Equity Holdings multiplied by each company's respective market capitalisation (Cash and Income/Debt securities are excluded).

Standard Deviation of Returns – A historical analysis of the volatility in monthly returns also known as historical volatility.

Correlation of Returns – A statistical measure of how two securities move in relation to each other. In this case the two securities are NAC and XAOAI. If the correlation is 1 then the two securities should have the same monthly returns and if the correlation is -1 and XAOAI had a return of -1.00% then NAC would be expected to have a return of +1.00%

Sortino Ratio – A modification of the Sharpe ratio that differentiates harmful volatility from general volatility by taking into account the standard deviation of negative asset returns, called downside deviation. A large Sortino may potentially indicate that there is a low probability of a large capital loss.

Downside Deviation - A measure of downside risk that focuses on returns that fall below a minimum threshold or minimum acceptable return (MAR). For our calculations, we use returns negative to zero for the calculation of portfolio downside deviation.

Portfolio Beta – A measure of the volatility, or systematic risk of a portfolio or security. A beta of 1 indicates a portfolio/security's price will move with the market. A beta of less than 1 indicated that a security/portfolio should be less volatile than the market.
